TODD MCMILLAN & DR. PETER MCNAMARA: 'mountain study'

The Cube
Mosman Art Gallery
9 February – 28 April, 2013

A collaboration between photographic and video artist Todd McMillan and sound artist Dr Peter McNamara, mountain study is an enigmatic, evocative projection and sound installation work which uses the lens of German Romanticism to explore the aesthetics of the sublime, untamed landscape.

The artwork is a commentary on our shared human desire and the ingrained aspirations to profundity that are produced in us when we see and experience imagery of mountains, their soaring peaks, ledges and valleys. Using sound and moving image mountain study is a witty and furtive attempt to articulate the nothing that is nowhere and is endless.

Mountain Study is on exhibition in the Gallery's contemporary multi-arts exhibition space, 'The Cube'. The Cube has a strong emphasis on programming digital and new media art forms.
